

MEDIA INVITATION – Be the first to discover SENSIO’s new 3D product!

SENSIO Technologies Inc. is back again this year at the 2012 International CES with some big news to share! The company will announce the launch of a revolutionary product that will help counter the low adoption of 3D. Once more, SENSIO will break boundaries through content, quality, usability and compatibility, allowing consumers to have the ultimate 3D experience right in their own living rooms!

For the occasion, the SENSIO team invites you to visit its booth at the CES to discover and try its new product. Make sure that you book your seat and are the first one to get a leg up on 3D in 2012!
