

United Shop Services

Earn cash with attractive partner programs United Shop Services at Photokina

The partner programs of United Shop Services (USS) offer the printing industry, creative industries and business easy access to e-commerce. The programs offer partners enormous earning potential, without costs or risks. United Shop Services, a brand of unitedprint.com SE, will be presenting these attractive partner programs for the first time at Photokina in Cologne from September 16 to 21, 2014.

At this leading international trade fair for imaging, interested parties can go to Stand D019, Hall 9.1 and get professional advice on the different programs: „Become a reseller“, „Become an online print shop“, „Buy and sell designs & photos“ and „Earn money sharing designs & photos“.

Become a reseller

Resellers conduct sales through their own web-to-print shop and take advantage of the experience and production capacities of one of the most successful Internet printing plants in Europe. With a broad range of products and services that is constantly expanding, low prices, fast delivery, high quality and personalized 24/7 service, direct market access to a global sales volume of €100 billion can be gained without having to invest your own money – easy, free, instant!

Become an online print shop

Online printing companies have their own printing capabilities. They sell through their own web-to-print shop, display their own items and manage (in real-time) which online orders they want to produce themselves and which they want to outsource. They benefit from the latest shop and editor technology as well as extensive service offerings – without any set-up costs, fees, minimum term or minimum turnover. Easy, free, instant!

Buy and sell designs & photos

Buy or sell individual designs and photos from and to professional designers and photographers with access to a limitless international market. Our global marketplace for creative services offers customers the opportunity to issue tenders for design and photo projects, while creative people from all over the world can participate in these tenders.

Earn money sharing designs & photos

Share your own designs and photos to earn money. Your works are included in the design and photo galleries of a large number of online printing shops and can be used by their customers. Take advantage of this limitless international market access, define your own prices and earn money with your own designs and photos – simple, free, instant!
