Our Name

- The new name speaks to our passion and vision for better healthcare, where highly engaged doctors and advanced providers proactively lead change and provide unmatched patient care rooted in the art and science of medicine
- This name reflects our critical role in providing care that not only improves outcomes for patients and the communities in which they live, but also supports physicians' compassion and joy around providing care, while implementing cost-efficient solutions for hospitals and health systems
- The name Vituity combines the words vital and acuity – better acute care across a variety of specialties is vital to the healthcare system running more smoothly and efficiently

“We are focused on pioneering how and where acute healthcare is delivered — building on our years of deep and wide experience on the front lines.”

— Imamu Tomlinson, MD
Chief Executive Officer of Vituity
